Educational Objectives
- Identify and critically analyze sinonasal anatomy and their radiographic appearance
- Recognize and identify the relationship between sinonasal and functional anatomy — ie, how to maximize functional results while still preserving vital structures
- Develop the manual skills required by practice on cadaver specimens so as to distinguish the “feel” of the multiple and varied sinonasal procedures.
- Demonstrate the surgical procedure using the endoscope performing sinus surgery and debridement under the guidance of expect faculty
- Discuss medical treatment options for sinonasal diseases
- Discuss proper indications, surgical management and complication avoidance for endoscopic sinus surgery
