DUAL LANGUAGE EDUCATION of NEW MEXICO

Misión: Defender oportunidades educativas equitativas que honren y aprovechen los diversos recursos lingüísticos y culturales de cada estudiante.

Mission: To champion equitable educational opportunities that honor and leverage the diverse linguistic and cultural assets of every learner.

Vision

We envision a world where multilingualism is embraced, cultures are honored, and equitable education empowers and prepares students to realize and fulfill their highest potential.

Message from our Board of Directors

Dear Educators, Advocates, and Friends,

On behalf of the Board of Directors of Dual Language Education of New Mexico (DLeNM), it is our honor to welcome you to La Cosecha 2026 in beautiful Santa Fe, New Mexico!

This year's theme, En Comunidad, Desde el Corazón, Hacia la Justicia, reminds us of the power of coming together with purpose, compassion, and a shared commitment to educational equity. At a time when our educators, students, and families face growing challenges, La Cosecha offers an important opportunity to reconnect, find inspiration, and strengthen the community that sustains our work.

For more than three decades, La Cosecha has brought together educators and advocates who believe that language and culture are not barriers to overcome, but strengths to celebrate. Aquí celebramos nuestras lenguas, nuestras culturas y las experiencias que nos unen. Together, we continue to champion educational opportunities where every learner feels valued, respected, and proud of their identity.

As you experience this year's conference, we encourage you to embrace new ideas, share your experiences, build meaningful connections, and carry what you learn back to your schools and communities. May these days renew your passion, strengthen your purpose, and remind you that we do not do this work alone.

¡Juntos seguimos sembrando las semillas de un futuro más justo para todos!

With gratitude and appreciation,

Adrián Ávila and Viridiana Cisneros
Co-Chairs, Board of Directors
Dual Language Education of New Mexico

Estimados educadores, defensores de la educación y amigos:

En nombre de la Junta Directiva de Dual Language Education of New Mexico (DLeNM), es un honor darles la bienvenida a La Cosecha 2026 en la hermosa ciudad de Santa Fe, Nuevo México.

El lema de este año, En Comunidad, Desde el Corazón, Hacia la Justicia, nos recuerda el poder de unirnos con propósito, compasión y un compromiso compartido con la equidad educativa. En un momento en que nuestros educadores, estudiantes y familias enfrentan desafíos cada vez mayores, La Cosecha nos brinda una valiosa oportunidad para reencontrarnos, inspirarnos y fortalecer la comunidad que sostiene nuestra labor.

Durante más de tres décadas, La Cosecha ha reunido a educadores y defensores de la educación que creen firmemente que la lengua y la cultura no son barreras que debemos superar, sino fortalezas que debemos celebrar. Aquí celebramos nuestras lenguas, nuestras culturas y las experiencias que nos unen. Juntos, seguimos promoviendo oportunidades educativas en las que cada estudiante se sienta valorado, respetado y orgulloso de su identidad.

A lo largo de esta conferencia, los invitamos a explorar nuevas ideas, compartir sus experiencias, establecer conexiones significativas y llevar lo aprendido a sus escuelas y comunidades. Que estos días renueven su pasión, fortalezcan su compromiso y les recuerden que no estamos solos en esta labor.

¡Juntos seguimos sembrando las semillas de un futuro más justo para todos!

Con gratitud y aprecio,

Adrián Ávila y Viridiana Cisneros

¡Bienviendos! Yá'át'ééh! Welcome!

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Association of Bilingual Education New Mexico (ABE_NM), les doy una calurosa bienvenida to the 31st annual La Cosecha Conference 2026. This year's conference theme, "En comunidad, desde el corazón, hacia la justicia," allows attendees de diferentes geografías to convene in Santa Fe for three days to be en comunidad—guided by heart hacia la justicia.

We must ask ourselves what it means to be rooted in community—and what vision of justice emerges cuando el corazón guía el camino. Cultivating una pedagogía del corazón that calls us to imagine—and to enact—the collective actions required to guarantee equity and justice as essential pillars of our dual language bilingual education programs.

We hope that during your time at this year's conference, you take the opportunity to nourish your corazón—and that the presentations and pláticas you share with fellow educators continue to sustain your thirst for justice. So that you may return to your comunidades and continue sowing una pedagogía del corazón, equidad y justicia—on behalf of the students, families, and communities you serve.

Para concluir, may your experience at La Cosecha do more than renew your commitment—may it ignite the fire of advocacy, equidad y justicia in your corazón. ¡Feliz Cosecha!

Sincerely,
Elisabeth Valenzuela

New Mexico Tribal Language Consortium

"A united voice in language preservation"

Esteemed La Cosecha Attendees:

On behalf of the New Mexico Tribal Language Consortium (NMTLC), welcome to La Cosecha Dual Language Conference 2026!

NMTLC is a grassroots organization consisting of members that are dedicated to empowering Indigenous language initiatives across New Mexico! As you step onto these lands, home to our peoples for millennia, we wish to share important facts about our respective Indigenous languages and homelands.

Within the state of New Mexico there are eight distinctive Indigenous language families that are still spoken: Apache (spoken by Jicarilla, Mescalero and Fort Sill Apache tribes); Keres (spoken by the Pueblos of Acoma, Laguna, Santa Ana, San Felipe, Zia, Cochiti and Santo Domingo); Diné Bizaad (spoken by Navajo Nation); Tiwa (spoken by the Pueblos of Taos, Picuris, Sandia and Isleta); Tewa (spoken by Ohkay Owingeh, the Pueblos of Santa Clara, San Ildefonso, Nambe, Pojoaque and Tesuque); Towa (spoken by the Pueblo of Jemez); and Zuni (spoken by the Pueblo of Zuni). The city of Santa Fe is acknowledged as Oga Po'geh, meaning White Shell Water Place. This is the land of the Northern and Southern Tewa. This land also has connections to the Nambe Pueblo; the Tewa; and the Jicarilla Apache, the Diné (Navajo), Cochiti, Taos, and Hopi Pueblos.

Our languages are deeply rooted in oral traditions and way of life. This year's conference theme, "Rooted in Community-Guided by the Heart, In Pursuit of Justice," is aligned to NMTLC's purpose to support, advocate and foster the maintenance, revitalization and preservation of New Mexico's tribal languages.

We are happy that you are here in the Land of Enchantment to learn, share and network with like-minded people that have essential knowledge and expertise that value home languages.

With gratitude and respect,

Shannon Johnson (Diné), President, NMTLC
Darrin Rock (Santa Clara), President-Elect, NMTLC
Charlene Lucero (Pueblo of Isleta), Secretary, NMTLC
Curtis Chavez (Pueblo of Cochiti), Treasurer, NMTLC

Key Strategies for Biliteracy – Project GLAD® Institute (Tuesday, November 11 - Wednesday, November 12)
AThis pre-conference institute integrates a biliteracy focus with innovative Project GLAD®strategies to leverage students' bilingualism and build academic content and language proficiency in English and Spanish. Experience GLAD®strategies through a dual language lens and plan for implementation in your school setting. You'll leave equipped with practical strategies to elevate your biliteracy teaching practices. This workshop will be led by OCDE Project GLAD®experts in bilingualism and biliteracy.
Facilitators: DLeNM GLAD® Biliteracy Team

Dual Language Education Foundations for State, District, and School Leadership
This one-day institute will focus on practical leadership in effective program design and implementation practices grounded in strong research and policies. Participants will identify problems of practice and choose from sessions led by dynamic experts and seasoned state, district, and school leaders. Sessions include topics such as biliteracy instruction, classroom walkthroughs, secondary scheduling and planning, student engagement, serving dually identified students, and teacher preparation and development. Join us to collaborate and engage with colleagues, learn from successful leaders, and take your program to the next level!
Facilitators: NAELPA and DLeNM with Mario Palma, Yvonne Williams, Mishelle Jurado, Joan LaChance, and school and district leaders from Atlanta, GA, Salem-Keizer, OR, Mount Vernon and Sunnyside, WA

Educating English Learners for a Transformed World: Designing Systems That Deliver for Multilingual Learners intentional system design. Grounded in the newly released 2nd Edition of Educating English Learners for a Transformed World (Thomas, Collier, & Lachance), this intensive institute centers the foundational architecture required for multilingual learners to experience not just enrichment —but transformation. Participants will examine how the Three Pillars of Dual Language Education, the Four Non-Negotiables for Implementation, and the Seven Strands of the Guiding Principles for Dual Language Education (3rd ed.) align to create coherent, sustainable, justice-oriented programming. Together, we will explore how collaboration structures across school, district, state, and higher education systems either reinforce inequities — or build durable pathways toward full gap closure and multilingual learner empowerment.
Joan Lachance, Wayne Thomas, Virginia Collier, and the DLeNM DLBE Team

Culturally and Linguistically Responsive MTSS: Tier 1+ Critical Factors to Examine for Multilingual Learners Experiencing Challenges in a Dual Language Program
Is the difficulty related to language learning or a learning disability? Explore a strengths-based MTSS approach for distinguishing language-learning challenges from potential disabilities. Through a collaborative case study, participants will examine intensive instruction, intervention, and ongoing assessment while building on students' bilingualism, cultures, experiences, and interests. Leave with research, practical resources, and a guiding framework to support multilingual learners.
Cristina Sánchez-López, Paridad Education Consulting

Teaching for Biliteracy in Action
The Teaching for Biliteracy team will provide an interactive overview of the instructional and programmatic elements of teaching for biliteracy within a variety of models, 90/10, 80/20, 50/50, 2-way immersion, and 1-way immersion, and in one-teacher (self-contained) and two-teacher (partnering) configurations. Participants will define biliteracy, learn about the multilingual perspective and experience elements of a biliteracy unit framework: oracy, background knowledge and language comprehension, evidence-based reading and writing instruction, content instruction, and the Bridge for transfer and contrastive analysis to develop metalinguistic awareness. Participants will also receive digital access to year-long biliteracy maps and units.

2026 Poster Artist

Alberto Gutierrez

Alberto is a New Mexico–based Chicano artist whose work draws from Mexican culture, Mesoamerican Indigenous cosmology, Southwestern landscapes, and storytelling. Working primarily in acrylic and charcoal, he blends ancestral symbolism, spirituality, and contemporary expression to explore identity, heritage, resilience, beauty, and humanity's relationship with nature.

A first-generation Chicano and Mexican American, Gutierrez spent his childhood between the United States and Chihuahua, Mexico. Growing up with limited resources, he developed his creativity through drawing and building Star Wars spaceships from found materials. His great-grandmother's historic adobe home, which sheltered revolutionaries during the Mexican Revolution, influenced him through its architecture, colorful walls, and family stories. His Rarámuri great-grandfather, Alberto, was connected to Pancho Villa's revolutionary movement, while his Tía Locha, a curandera, introduced him to traditional healing and spirituality.

Art became a refuge as Gutierrez navigated cultural and educational challenges. Largely self-taught, he encountered prominent Southwestern and Chicano artists, including Luis Jiménez, Amado Peña, Rudy Montoya, Gronk, and Woody Crumbo, through his father's work at El Paso museums. Although he left formal schooling and worked as a barber for decades, he continued painting and studying Mexican history, Indigenous traditions, art, and social movements. His influences include Mexican masters, modern art, graffiti, and Southwestern art.

His exploration of Indigenous spirituality and experiences throughout the Southwest, including the Grand Canyon, deepened his connection to ancestral knowledge. Participating in the 1992 Peace and Dignity Journeys further shaped his understanding of cultural continuity, environmental responsibility, and Indigenous resilience.

After moving to Albuquerque at age twenty-two, Gutierrez incorporated Mesoamerican imagery and códices into his paintings to preserve ancestral stories. He exhibited in community spaces, contributed to mural projects, and developed his artistic voice through independent study and experimentation.

The COVID-19 pandemic marked a turning point when Gutierrez returned to painting full-time, creating art that offered comfort and joy. A fantastical bear inspired by Mexican alebrijes sparked a new direction featuring vibrant colors, imaginative animals, plants, intricate patterns, and symbolic landscapes.

Today, his paintings combine Chicano and Indigenous imagery, spirituality, cultural pride, and themes of resilience and resistance, increasingly expressed through beauty, love, and wonder. He views his work as contemporary códices that honor ancestral memory and demonstrate that Indigenous knowledge remains alive and evolving.

Now devoted more fully to his lifelong passion, Gutierrez creates art that sparks curiosity, brings joy, honors his ancestors, and celebrates cultural traditions. For him, art is both storytelling and a way of giving back—a reflection of where he comes from and the possibilities ahead.

Janet Montoya Schoeppner Memorial Scholarship

"Janet Montoya Schoeppner, like seed sown on good soil, heard the call, accepted it, and produced a crop of golden apples a hundred times sown. For out of the overflow of her heart, her mouth spoke."

- Frances Sánchez, 2009

Established in 2009, the Janet Montoya Schoeppner Memorial Scholarship Fund honors the memory and legacy of Janet Montoya Schoeppner. A native New Mexican, Janet was a proud UNM graduate and longtime educator, spending 25 years of her life working in bilingual programs in Albuquerque Public Schools. She considered herself an English as a second language teacher, and her work was grounded in her commitment to dual language education.

Janet's passion for education and her belief in equal opportunity for all students inspired DLeNM to create this scholarship fund in an effort to encourage teachers and educational assistants to achieve their bilingual certification. For more information visit us online at www.dlenm.org under the Resource Center tab.

See it. Show it. Say it. Making Vocabulary Meaningful for Multilingual Learners

Santa Fe Convention Center - Kearney • 2:50 pm – 3:20 pm

Janey Gostet — Academic Officer, Teacher Created Material

Vocabulary development is more than learning word meanings; it is about building connections, making meaning, and using language with purpose. In this fast-paced Power Session, participants will explore practical strategies to help multilingual learners develop and retain academic vocabulary through visuals, background knowledge activation, Total Physical Response (TPR), and meaningful language practice. Participants will consider how to move students beyond recognizing words to using them to communicate ideas across content areas. Leave with actionable strategies to make vocabulary instruction more intentional, engaging, and accessible for multilingual learners at every level of English proficiency.

Nurturing Literacy in the Project GLAD® for Early Childhood Classroom

Santa Fe Convention Center - Coronado/DeVargas

Ms. Laurie Magill — CODE Project GLAD® Certified Trainer, Dual Language Education of New Mexico
Inés Pérez-Conde — Teacher, DLENM / Cien Aguas International School

How do we move from oral language to literacy and written language without losing PLAY in the early childhood classroom? In this interactive session, we explore how Preschool GLAD® strategies develop phonological, phonemic, and syllabic awareness which are the building blocks of early reading and writing. We will demonstrate how to support your youngest dual language learners to access their complete linguistic repertoire, allowing for cross-linguistic transfer and multilingual learning.

Structured Literacy for English Learners in New Mexico

Santa Fe Convention Center - Ohkay Owingeh

Dr. Linda Cevasco — Consultant, ELLAS Consulting
Severo Martinez — Director, NM Public Education Department

As New Mexico solidifies Structured Literacy as its primary instructional approach, educators are witnessing a transformative shift in student outcomes. Grounded in a landmark NMPED survey of thousands of educators, we explore the measurable impact of statewide training. We will analyze data signaling a transition from implicit to explicit, systematic, and intentional instruction. Discover how prioritizing Science of Reading foundational skills—including pre-teaching vocabulary and background knowledge—is bolstering achievement for English Learners. Join us to examine the qualitative and quantitative evidence proving that structured, intentional literacy instruction is the key to statewide success.

Prácticas pragmáticas y productivas x 2: Taller relámpago de bi-alfabetización

Santa Fe Convention Center - Coronado/DeVargas

Dr. Paul Patterson — Instructional Specialist, Denton Independent School District

This workshop will be presented in Spanish with English support. Two practices to boost biliteracy in the classroom will be addressed: Writing motivation utilizing translanguage and reading fluency within a target language. Attendees will engage in activities designed to help students overcome typical challenges and develop robust strategies and habits. Participants will be able to return to their learning spaces and implement these activities to foster confidence and enthusiasm with their multilingual students. To conclude, the session will examine the importance of culturally sustaining instruction and provide participants with an insightful checklist for reflection.

Biliteracy Units: Lenguaje, comunidad y sabiduría ancestral

Santa Fe Convention Center - Ohkay Owingeh

Patricia Núñez — Teacher, UT Austin

Teaching is an act of relationship shaped by our languages, histories, lands, and ancestors. This unit-planning framework begins with meaning, connection, and purpose—then aligns standards to those foundations. Units center community knowledge, students' lived experiences, and culturally relevant themes such as raíces, lengua, territorio, and migración. Oral language leads to literacy across Spanish, English, and heritage languages, integrating content areas and identity goals. Learning is communal, reflective, rigorous, and humanizing—honoring whole learners and positioning community wisdom as living knowledge, taught in our languages and guided by shared commitments.
