

New AAFP Resources Can Help Streamline Prior Authorizations

Few practice management issues resonate with family physicians like increasing administrative simplification does. Identifying ways to improve the prior authorization process is a big step in the right direction. A new Family Medicine Practice Hack video offers tips to streamline prior authorization procedures, and a members-only workbook that offers sample cheat sheets can simplify the task of assembling information needed to submit prior authorizations for different payers.