Dear Colleague:

For 28 years we have been bringing top Arizona water law and policy experts together for two days of education, interaction, and networking, and this year promises to be the best yet!

Be a part of the discussion on valuable topics like these:

- Update on the Drought Contingency Plan
- Climate Change and Water in Arizona
- Water Quality
- Irrigation District Managers Panel
- Groundwater and Surface Water Updates
- Water and Wine
- Indian Water Rights
- City and State Water Issues
- Point/Counterpoint on Rural Water Transfers
- The Pinal Active Management Area
... and more!

Featuring Experts from:

- Arizona Department of Water Resources
- Arizona State Climate Office
- Arizona Water Company
- City of Phoenix
- HighGround, Inc.
- Maricopa-Stanfield Irrigation and Drainage District
- The Nature Conservancy
- Office of Governor Doug Ducey
- Pinal County Board of Supervisors, District #3
- Roosevelt Water Conservation District
- Wellton-Mohawk Irrigation and Drainage District
... and leading law firms!

You’ll leave with valuable course materials and a deeper understanding of the issues involved in Arizona’s complex water law arena.

We look forward to seeing you in Scottsdale!

Program Co-Chairs

Mark A. McGinnis focuses on water rights, environmental, and complex commercial litigation and the law relating to special districts. His primary clients include an agricultural improvement district, irrigation and electrical districts, industrial entities, individual business owners, and developers. He has in-depth experience in the Arizona Surface Water and Groundwater Codes and matters relating to the Colorado River. Mr. McGinnis has co-chaired CLE International’s Arizona Water Law Conference every year since 1995.

John B. Weldon Jr. is a founding member of Salmon, Lewis & Weldon. His practice focuses on water law, natural resources litigation, environmental law, Indian law, and electric power and utilities. Mr. Weldon concentrates on the representation of the largest water users’ association in Arizona, an agricultural improvement and power district, an Arizona municipality, and the co-owners of one of the largest coal-fired electric generation stations in the US in water rights, environmental, and natural resource related matters. He has been included in Best Lawyers in America in Natural Resources Law, Water Law, and Environmental Law every year since 1993, and he is a frequent author and speaker on Arizona water law and the law of the Colorado River.

Featured Presentation: State Water Issues

Chuck Podolak, PhD
Natural Resources Policy Advisor
Office of Governor Doug Ducey
Phoenix

Chuck Podolak is the Natural Resources Policy Advisor for Arizona Governor Doug Ducey. In this role he coordinates policy decisions across eight state agencies on topics including water, forestry, land, environmental regulations, energy, wildlife, and agriculture. He also provides the Governor with advice on legislation on these same topics. Prior to serving in the Governor’s office, Dr. Podolak served as the Natural Resources Policy Advisor for Senator Jeff Flake, and the Director of Water Rights and Contracts at the Salt River Project. Dr. Podolak has a Ph.D in River Sciences from Johns Hopkins University, and a Bachelors Degree from the US Air Force Academy. He is a US Air Force Veteran and former F-16 fighter pilot.
