ROOMS AND SUITES

HERITAGE, GLAMOUR AND FINE DINING IN THE HEART OF THE CITY OF LIGHT

Often called the “little Versailles”, this Parisian Grande Dame sits in a legendary, century-old, heritage building renovated in 2014, infusing cutting-edge modernity in a century of elegance, glamour and French history.

Within walking distance of some of the world’s most famous monuments, museums and luxury shopping districts, the palace houses 200 of the most spacious rooms in Paris, including 93 suites.

ROOMS AND SUITES

The Peninsula Paris redefines the art of service with a warm and authentic approach to hospitality. Modernity, luxury, comfort: The Peninsula Paris experience is complete only when guests feel perfectly at home.

Designed with both leisure and business travellers in mind, the two hundred rooms and suites of The Peninsula Paris are delightful havens of modern luxury that offer guests an intimate retreat to dream, rest and rejuvenate during their stay. Each category of room and suite presents unique features and generous proportions.

The sixth-floor apartments include fabulous private gardens perched up high on the hotel rooftop, while the Katara, Historic and Peninsula suites, renowned for their stunning architecture and luxurious reception areas, provide both discretion and opulence. Sophisticated and bright, all rooms are adorned with fresh flowers, arranged daily by The Peninsula's in house floral team, adding a subtle touch of elegance to every stay.

From its exceptional location on one of the 12 branches of the Place de l'Étoile, Avenue Kléber, to its heritage of a building originally constructed in 1908, its classification as an historical monument, its impeccable restoration by the finest French workshops, and the continuation of the elegant tradition of The Peninsula Hotels, 200 rooms and suites at The Peninsula Paris await discerning guests.

These accommodations are among the most spacious in the French capital and technologically they are unquestionably the best equipped in the world.

For The Peninsula experience to be unique for every visitor, whether French or international, be it for the first time or the tenth, each and every detail has been meticulously considered.

The suites, with their gardens, terraces and views, are truly reflective of an outstanding hospitality company and its tribute to French heritage.
