

Seller Growth Summit Cancellation Policy

Last Updated: April 27, 2026

Your registration for and participation at any in-person, webcast, on-demand, virtual or any other event (the "Event") organized by Seller Growth Summit ("Seller Growth Summit," "we," "us," or "our") is governed by the Seller Growth Summit Event Terms and Conditions. This Policy is meant to supplement those Terms and Conditions. Please review the full Terms and Conditions prior to reviewing this policy, with special attention to Section 6: Cancellation.

How can I cancel my Event registration?

To cancel your Event registration, please follow these instructions:

1. Open the confirmation email you received.
2. Click on the link provided in the email to log back into your registration.
3. Once logged in, locate and click the "Cancel" button.
4. Fill out the "Decline" form.
5. After completing the form, click the "Confirm Cancellation" button to finalize the process.

Will I receive a refund?

If Amazon receives your cancellation submission by June 18, 2026, you will be issued a full refund of your registration fees via the original payment method. If Amazon receives your cancellation notice between June 19, 2026, and July 2, 2026, you will be issued a 50% refund of your registration fees via the original payment method. If Seller Growth Summit receives your cancellation notice on or after July 3, 2026, you will not be eligible for any refund.

Refund issuance may be delayed due to processing procedures. Once issued, refunds may take at least five business days to show on your bank or credit statement.

Event registrations may be transferred to another participant upon approval by Amazon in its sole discretion. To request a transfer of your event registration, contact us at helpdesk@sellergrowthsummit.amazon.
