Octane & Our Mission

We have big goals for Southern California. Octane is a non-profit, with funding supported by a revenue-generating consulting branch, grants & partner support, dedicated to 55,000+ high-paying jobs by 2030.

We convene and enable the Southern California tech and health tech business ecosystem by connecting people, resources, and capital.

We impact our community and create high-paying jobs through our non-profit that includes LaunchPad SBDC, an industry-leading accelerator. Our other initiatives through our non-profit include our Non-Profit Accelerator, Women Leaders of Octane, STEM Fellows, Next Wave, and Healthsocial.ai. These initiatives create jobs and ensure that they are shared equitably throughout the community through inclusion and diversity. Read more about our Foundation and our initiatives here.

Octane also brings the tech and health tech communities together with Octane Connect, which encapsulates our Ignite Series Programs and six Signature Events. Each event convenes industry, physicians, entrepreneurs, investors, and strategic partners, creating connections and a cross-pollination of ideas that result in innovation.

Octane is also supported by Octane Capital & Growth, a revenue-generating platform that provides the connections to raise capital and services needed to grow.
