Advising, Educational Plans & Holistic Supports

- Explore what it takes to move from transactional advising toward a connected, holistic advising ecosystem
- Examine how roles, handoffs, technology, data, basic-needs supports, and student partnership shape the student experience
- Exchange ideas with peers about the conditions needed to make holistic advising sustainable and system-wide
- Leave with one practical next step or idea

Close & Synthesize

Design intent Participants should spend at least half of the session actively discussing and making meaning with one another.

What are we talking about today...?

ACADEMIC & CAREER ADVISING

"[Academic advising is] a field of study and profession that focuses on the intellectual, personal, and educational development of advisees as they engage with higher education."

"[Career advisors help] students make informed, financially sound, and sustainable education and career choices...guide students to understand their interests, the related career opportunities available, and the skills, education, and training required to pursue those careers."

People & Practice

EDUCATIONAL PLANS

"a personalized academic roadmap [co-designed by students and advisors] showing what courses a student will take, when they will take them, and how those courses and other learning activities will prepare them to achieve their career and further education goals."

Paper

HOLISTIC SUPPORT

"student-centered operations that address the academic and personal needs of all students to ensure they can thrive."

Principles & Policies

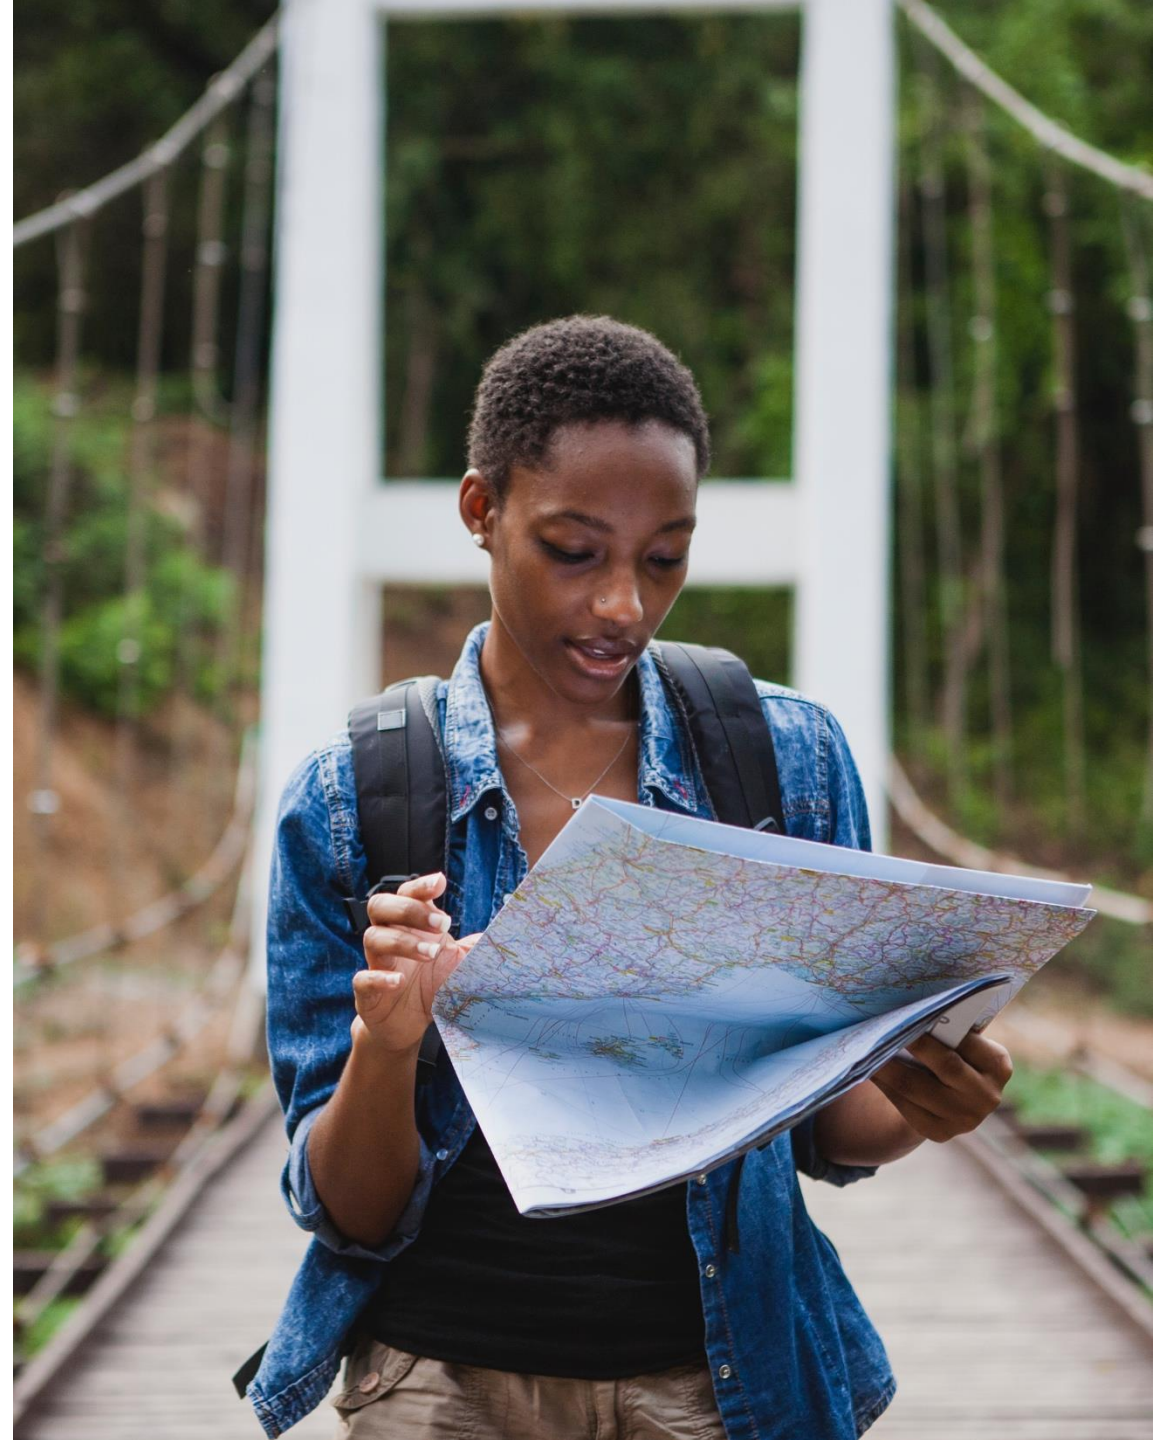

Connection Moment: When Did The System Work For You?

Think of a moment in your education or career when you had to navigate a process you did not understand...

IN PAIRS, DISCUSS

- Was there a person, office, or system that helped connect the dots for you?
 - What did they do specifically?
 - Where were you left to figure out the system yourself?
 - What made the experience feel connected - or fragmented?
 - Did you have a plan?
