Join us for the inaugural event!

The NYC CLL Consortium Meeting is a premier annual educational forum dedicated to advancing the management of chronic lymphocytic leukemia (CLL). Led by investigators from the NYC CLL Consortium, the inaugural program brings together academic and community hematologists/oncologists, fellows, advanced practice providers, and multidisciplinary clinicians involved in CLL research and care.

Meeting Highlights:

- Latest biologic discoveries, translational insights, and pivotal clinical trial data
- Collaboration among leading CLL experts and institutions
- Practical strategies for integrating emerging therapies into real-world practice
- Discussion and expert interpretation of the latest data presented at ASH
