

New Detective Training

Live-Stream Interactive Course

October 22 - 23, 2024

This new detective course is intended to make the participants recognize the importance of basic investigative techniques that are often overlooked or not given the proper level of importance in the face of newer technologies and investigative techniques. This class also gives an introduction to 4th and 5th Amendment issues encountered by detectives and the importance of striving for and maintaining the highest quality of investigation in all cases. It also introduces the detective to the dynamics of interacting with victims and their family members.

Participants will be instructed that there is nothing more destructive to a crime scene or criminal investigation than making early assumptions about the scene and the nature of the investigation. The participants will be taught to treat every violent crime scene as a possible murder investigation and to not allow preconceptions and personal theories to influence their actions or the manner in which they handle the crime scene and investigation.

$450 for the first attendee, $225 per additional

DolanConsultingGroup.com

info@DolanConsultingGroup.com • 919-805-3020

REGISTER TODAY!

New Detective Training

Course Objectives

- Understanding the 4 basic responsibilities of the initial responding officer
- Identifying the most perishable item at a crime scene - witnesses
- Defining and addressing "confirmation bias"
- Identifying when a death investigation is no longer a murder investigation
- Understanding the four stages of handling a crime scene - information gathering, planning, observation & processing, and documentation.

Special Agent Everett C. Babcock

Oklahoma District Attorney's Office District 22

Special Agent Everett Babcock began his law enforcement career in 1988, serving as a Patrol Officer, and later as an Investigator for the Sayre Police Department in Sayre Oklahoma. In 1992 Babcock took a position as a District Attorney's Investigator assigned to the District 2 Drug Task Force in Oklahoma's Second Judicial District, conducting narcotic investigations in the northwestern part of the state.

In 1995, Babcock moved to Missouri and began a career with the Kansas City, Missouri Police Department, serving as a Patrol Officer, Field Training Officer, Patrol Sergeant, Patrol Captain, Domestic Violence Detective, Homicide Detective, Assault Squad Sergeant, Property Crimes Captain, Homicide Unit Sergeant, and Homicide Unit Captain.

Babcock retired from Kansas City Missouri P.D. in February of 2024 after 29 years of service. In March of 2024 Babcock returned to Oklahoma, taking his current position as a Special Agent working for the District Attorney's Office in Oklahoma's 22nd Judicial District where he is currently employed.

In addition to teaching for the Dolan Consulting Group, Babcock has taught law enforcement classes for the University of Central Missouri, the Kansas City, Missouri Police Department, the Missouri Highway Patrol, The International Homicide Investigator's Association, and the Oklahoma District Attorney's Association. Babcock holds a Master's Degree in Criminal Justice from the University of Central Missouri.

Babcock is currently the Northern Regional Director for the International Homicide Investigator's Association, and is a member of the Oklahoma Commission on Children and Youth's Child Death Review Board.

Babcock's homicide investigations have been profiled on America's Most Wanted, American Gangster, The First 48, Fatal Attraction and The Killer Next Door.