Supervisor Liability for Law Enforcement

June 24 - 25 • Ashland, Ohio

A promotion to a supervisory position in law enforcement is an invitation to enter the world of risk management. Far too many supervisors learn about these challenges through the process of trial and error—at great expense to themselves, their agencies, the people they lead, and the public that they serve. It is vital to agency operations that supervisors are continuously considering the ramifications of their leadership decisions in the context of liability, public safety, and risk management.

In this course, real-world case studies will be utilized to illustrate the most common and costly liability issues confronting supervisors in law enforcement and the most effective strategies for minimizing that liability.

This training is designed to prepare law enforcement supervisors—and future supervisors—to take preventative steps to limit supervisor liability, maintain organizational standards, and protect the public trust.
