The Florida Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics (FCAAP) Immunization Committee serves to educate both our community pediatricians and the general public on the latest guidelines regarding vaccinations during childhood as well as advocating legislatively for issues impacting immunizations in keeping with the primary goal of reducing preventable diseases.